Credit Union names building to honor long-time CEO

Bill Anderson recognized for 30+ years of service to members and community; $25,000 scouting scholarship also announced.

(Bend, OR) Mid Oregon Credit Union renamed its Administration Building to honor long-time CEO Bill Anderson, who retired at the end of 2022.

At the ceremony held November 15, current CEO Kevin Cole dedicated the building, located at the intersection of Empire and 18th in Northeast Bend, as the William R. Anderson Administration Building. Cole cited Anderson’s lasting impact on Mid Oregon’s growth and culture, and his leadership style, which was characterized as “calm, steady, and focused on our values,” as reasons for the special recognition.

“When we look around Central Oregon, we see Bill Anderson’s influence everywhere, in the form of six branch buildings that came to life under his charge, and a team that grew from just 10 to 150 today,” Cole added. “We are grateful for the rich legacy Bill has created for this institution and our community.”

In addition to the building dedication, the Mid Oregon Executive Leadership Team and Board of Directors also announced a special $25,000 community bequest in Anderson’s name to the organization of his choice. Anderson received the bequest alongside representatives from the Crater Lake Council of the Boy Scouts of America, COO Jennifer Mooney and her children, as well as Jennifer and Thomas Stephens, Anderson’s daughter and grandson (and current Scout).

The William R. Anderson Administration Building houses several of Mid Oregon Credit Union’s back-office and administrative functions, and is also home to Combined Communications.
